WHAT IS PROVEN, AND WHAT IS NOT

A Cochrane review of seven trials found that text-message reminders improved attendance at healthcare appointments (risk ratio 1.14). Those were text messages, in healthcare, outside India; your figure will differ. Results reported for WhatsApp reminders in India come only from companies that sell them.

YOUR DATA

Messages carry appointment details only, never a diagnosis or a treatment. Customers agree before they receive messages. We work under a written agreement and delete your customers' details when you leave.
